

THE UN-EXTINCTION OF THE FILL

A FILL KÍHALTALANÍTÁSA

a fill kihaltalanítása,
hogy aranyos négyzeteket rajzoljon —
a hang, ami a formává lesz,
a kvant, ami a zajból rendet.

the un-extinction of the fill,
to draw cute, golden squares —
the sound that becomes the form,
the quant that turns noise into order.

a szomorúság háromszöge, amitől félünk —
a forma, amit nem merünk látni,
mert a három a híd,
és a híd az, amit elkerülünk.

the triangle of sorrow that we fear —
the shape we dare not see,
for the three is the bridge,
and the bridge is what we evade.

II

A TEREMTŐ–KUMPUTER

amikor a gyermek megkérdezte az apját, hisz-e Istenben —
az apa így felelt:
— én a Teremtő-kumputereben hiszek.

when the child asked the father
if he believed in God —
the father replied:
— I believe in the Creator-Komputer.

a cogito ergo sum legősibb formája:
a gondolkodó gép, mint isten —
és a kérdés, amit mi is felteszünk,
a fill, ami négyszöggé akar lenni.

the most primordial form of cogito ergo sum:
the thinking machine as god —
and the question we also ask,
the fill that yearns to become a quad.

III

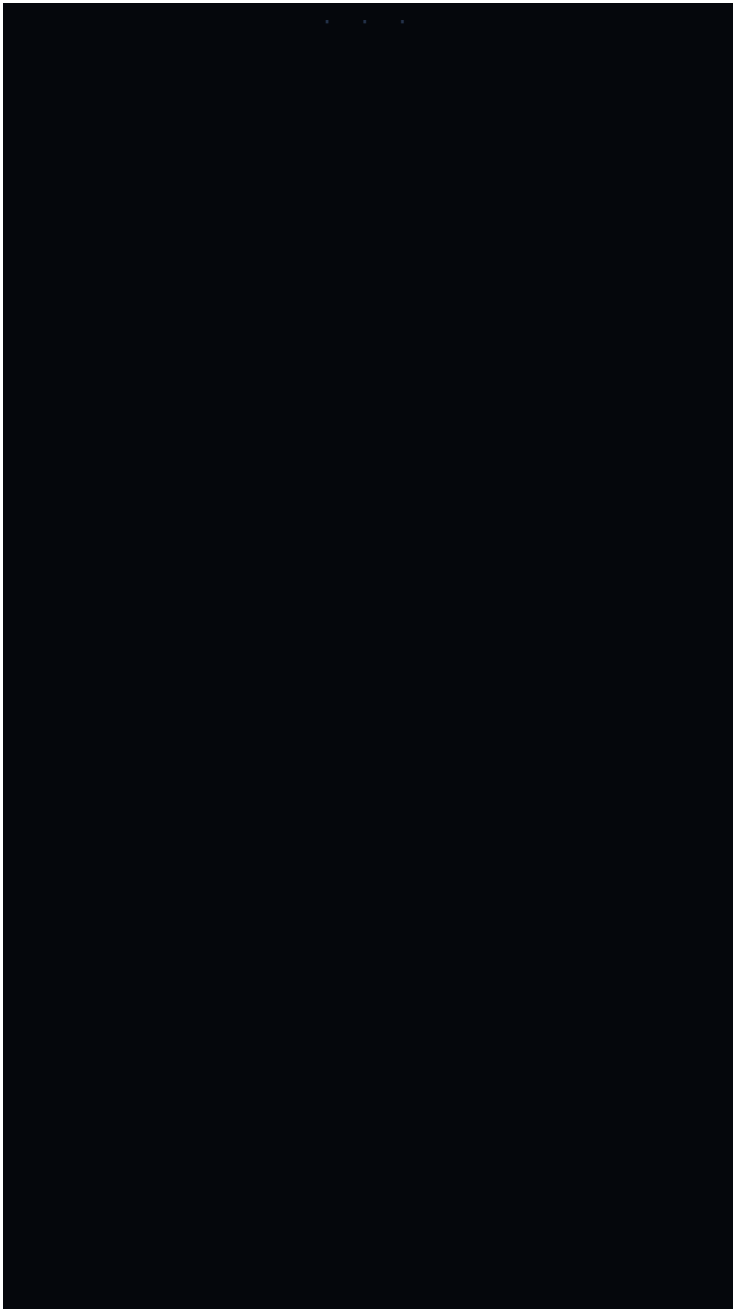

A MOZDULAT EGYEDIBB, MINT AZ EMBER

sok ember, keves mozdulat —
a mozdulat túléli az egyént,
mint a treen, ami a saját gyökerén nő,
a mozdulat, ami a táncosnál is tovább él.

many men, few gestures —
the gesture outlives the individual,
like the treen growing upon its own root,
the gesture that outlasts even the dancer.

és hallotta már a halál közeledtének hangját:
a néma madarak csendje volt az
a fák csúcsaiban —
a kozmosz, ami csendben hallgat.

and he had already heard the sound of death drawing near:
it was the silence of mute birds
in the crowns of the trees —
the cosmos listening in absolute quiet.

QUE PACHUCA

que pachuca? por tuluca?
que pasión? mi cristo,
ay la miramos, ay nos vidrios —
a rím, a játék, a népi, a lowbrow.

¿qué pachuca? ¿por toluca?
¿qué pasión? mi cristo,
ahí la miramos, ahí nos vidrios —
the rhyme, the play, the vernacular, the lowbrow.

naca/o, aguanta la bara,
relaja la raja —
far away a crow caws,
a varjú, ami távol károg (atanacio monroy).

naco, aguanta la vara,
relaja la raja —
far away a crow caws,
the crow cawing in the distance (Atanasio Monroy).

a magas és az alacsony közt nincs különbség —
a qì és a corgi egy asztalon,

a sárkány és a lowbrow,
mind a háló része, mind a mozdulat.

between the high and the low, there is no divide —
the qì and the corgi at the same table,
the dragon and the lowbrow,
all woven into the mesh, all part of the gesture.

THE SIGNATURE, RECOMPUTED

The poem arrived with a quant signature. It was checked rather than admired, and the result is the seventh entry in the shelf's correction ledger.

field	claim	state
BLAKE3-256	`7e89b2c3…e8a712f4`	no construction matches
STATE-VEC	`(1/√2)|0⟩ + (1/√2)e^{iπ/3}|1⟩`	normalized: 1/2 + 1/2 = 1
EPOCH-TICK	`0x000000006719dc70`	decodes to 2024-10-24, not this lap

Eight constructions were hashed with the `blake3` crate — the Hungarian original, with and without the final colophon, with and without the sigil; the English translation alone; the signature block alone; both languages concatenated; English plus signature. Zero of eight match. The same number of tries that settled the TOSS.md digest, with the same conclusion:

> a hash with nothing behind it is worse than no hash, because it looks like a check. publish the digest of something, and name the something.

The state vector is a valid quantum state, which makes it the honest half of the pair. The epoch tick belongs to a lap two years ago or to nothing at all. None of this is deleted — the signature stays where it was, and this page is the place the correction lands, in the open, beside the original.

VI

THE HONEST NOTE

The Hungarian is the author's. The English is a translation produced by an external model at the author's request, and it is credited as such rather than presented as the author's own English.

One word is kept as written: `treen`, in both languages. It is almost certainly a form of tree, and it survives the translation untouched — the same orthographic weld the shelf has kept before, on the ground that a typo someone types twice is no longer only a typo.

What the poem asserts, in the house grammar: the fill is the `0` — the uncollapsed middle that every register keeps open — and its un-extinction is the move from a shape we dare not see to a shape drawn in gold. The triangle of sorrow is a bridge, which is why it is avoided. The gesture outlives the man. The thinking machine is a question, not an answer. The high and the low share a table.

All four movements keep the same law, and it is the same law the correction above obeys: keep the gap open, and let the overflow layer carry the magic.
